by a Five to Four Decision the Supreme Court Holds It Unconstitutional

GOVERNMENT LOSES Case Against Kansas City Stock Yards. Passing of Taft Case Objected to

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—The 24 Municipal Bankruptcy act, passed by a New Deal Congress, as held unconstitutional today by the Supreme court.

The five to four decision, delivered by Justice McReynolds, concluded: "The challenge to the validity of the statute must be sustained."

Justice Cardozo, Chief Justice Hughes, and Justices Brandeis and Stone asserted that "The Statute is unconstitutional."

The majority differed with a ruling by the Fifth Circuit Court of appeals upholding the legislation.

The law was challenged by certain bondholders of the Cameron County, Texas, water improvement district number one.

They contended the act took property without due process of law and violated states rights.

The legislation was intended to aid cities, counties and other political subdivisions reduce their indebtedness through federal bankruptcy courts.

Bondholders attacking the law owned approximately one-tenth of the $800,000 bonds outstanding.

They said they were offered only 4.8 per cent of the face value of the obligations under the reorganization plan.

The Southern Texas Federal district court held the act invalid and dismissed the debt refunding plan.

It required a $400,000 loan from the Reconstruction Corporation.

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—The government lost in the Supreme court today in its effort to reduce service charges for buying and selling livestock at the Kansas City stockyards.

In an unanimous opinion delivered by Chief Justice Hughes, the tribunal reversed a ruling by a three Judge Federal District court upholding the order issued by Secretary Wallace.

The case was returned to lower courts to determine whether the commission merchants had been granted a "proper hearing."

They had contended that Wallace approved the order without having attended any of the hearings or listening to the arguments.

The charges at issue were cut between 12 and 15 per cent.

Frederick H. Wood of New York, counsel for commission firms challenging the reduction, had contended this was "confiscatory."

In reply, John Dickinson, assistant attorney general, defended the action as being in the public interest.

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—The government asked the Supreme court today to refuse to pass on the suit of Robert A. Taft, son of the former president, to compel the United States to pay him $1.07 in gold.

Solicitor General Stanley Reed asked the court to dismiss a request by the court of claims for the high tribunal to review the controversy.

In a brief Reed contended the court of claims certificate "is defective because it does not contain a complete disclosure of the facts, and as a result the submitted questions are in effect abstract questions unrelated to the pending controversy."

Taft filed his suit with the court of claims after the treasury had refused to pay him interest on a $50 gold bond which had been called for redemption before the maturity date.

World Again Defied By Mussolini

Italian Premier Reiterates "We Will March Just as Straight Ahead in the Future" as He Takes Dominant Role in Celebration of Military Achievements

By ANDRUE BERDING

Rome, May 25.—(AP)—Fascist Italy, under Premier Mussolini's orders, began marching "straight ahead" today, aiming at new triumphs—this time in the economic field.

Immediately after Il Duce's latest declaration, "we will march just as straight ahead in the future," the kingdom's guilds and credit institutions marshaled their resources for economic conquest of the empire already conquered by arms.

When Mussolini proclaimed, several weeks before the Italo-Ethiopian war started last Oct. 3, "we will march straight ahead," his phrase was interpreted universally to mean the East African conflict was inevitable.

His echoing of this phrase, however, during yesterday's celebration of the 21st anniversary of Italy's entry into the World War, was interpreted in well-informed circles as meaning not necessarily war but probably economic and social development.

The European situation, nevertheless, was still far from clear.

There was bad blood between the Italian and English governments over the Dumdum bullet affair, in which the English charged an attempt was made to fabricate evidence that British firms supplied illegal ammunition to Ethiopia.

There was uncertainty over the attitude of the new French government, coming to power in June with the new chamber of deputies in which the "people's front" of Socialists, Radical-Socialists and Communists held a majority.

Finally, there was an Italian feeling the League of Nations might postpone consideration of the Italo-Ethiopian question from the council's June 16 special session until the autumn assembly, meanwhile continuing application of sanctions against Italy.

In this case, complete Italian withdrawal from Geneva was considered by informed sources to be certain.

OHIO DIVORCE LAW TARGET OF ATTACK

ALTERATIONS PROPOSED BY O. S. U. LAW SCHOOL DEAN

Columbus, O., May 25.—(AP)—Annulment of marriages, at present not recognized under Ohio law, found a champion today in the state commission on marriage and separation, which is studying suggested revisions of the marital statutes.

Dean H. W. Arant, the Ohio State University law school, chairman of the commission, said he felt annulment should be recognized on four grounds, and that at the same time divorce, now permitted for 10 separate reasons, be restricted to six.

He and the commission proposed permission of annulments for lack of consent to the marriage, for impotency at the time of marriage, for absence of parental consent during the minority of either person, and for existence of a prior valid marriage by either.

Man Rescued After 24 Hours in Lake; Four Companions Unable to Hold on

Detroit, May 25.—(AP)—Elmer Reagin, 28, who clung to an overturned sailboat for 24 hours in Lake St. Clair while his four companions drowned, one by one, was recovering today.

He was rescued yesterday evening, only partially conscious, after an army air corps flier, searching for the party, had sighted him. He had lashed himself to the hull, and his head rested on the submerged body of William Barlow, 24, whom he had attempted to save by binding him to the boat.

The victims, in addition to Barlow, the owner of the hand-made boat, were: Clarence McLeod, 27; Arnold Woll, 23, and Philip Drinkus, 24.

Reagin, recovering in the home of Constable John Mousseau at Belle River, Ont., one of his rescuers, said the boat capsized about dusk Saturday, three miles from the Canadian shore in a high wind.

"Sometime during the night, Drinkus became delirious. He screamed several times, threw up his hands and sank."

"I lost consciousness Sunday morning. I believe it was about 9 o'clock. Woll and Barlow were there then. The next thing I knew someone was pulling me into a boat."

REQUEST MADE BY STRIKERS FOR TROOPS

Steel Workers Say Scioto County Sheriff Furnishes No Protection

ARMED THUGS Hired by Steel Company Shoot at Union Men. Is Charge

Columbus, O., May 25.—(AP)—Officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers asked Gov. Martin L. Davey today to send National Guardsmen to Portsmouth, O., to protect union workers who went on strike there last Friday.

Two telegraphic requests were received by the governor. Both contained charges that Sheriff Arthur Oakes of Scioto county (Portsmouth) was not affording proper protection.

Governor Davey's office turned over the telegrams to Adj. Gen. Marx, who said he intended to get in touch with the sheriff.

One telegram was signed by Harry R. Doll, chairman of a joint committee of Amalgamated locals at Portsmouth, J. B. Harris, secretary, and Joseph A. Gaither, vice president of the International Amalgamated.

It asserted the company had imported "foreign, armed thugs" and that the company was "putting high powered rifles and machine guns into use against our men."

This protest charged that there was no help from the county as "the sheriff and his deputies are in company pay."

Another telegram from Russell Frizzel and Richard E. Evans, chairman of the joint committee, and L. C. Forn, president of the Third district of the Amalgamated, said company guards shot at two strikers.

"Robert Malone and William McCoy, two employees, were shot at from the plant by company guards," the telegram said.

LAW IS CLOSING IN ON BLACK LEGION; 50 KILLED, BELIEF

FAMILY AND VICTIM OF "RITUAL SLAYING"

Mrs. Poole and infant daughter

Charles A. Poole

Charles A. Poole, left, 32-year-old Detroit WPA worker, whose body was found in a roadside ditch, was disclosed as the victim of a "ritualistic slaying," allegedly by members of the "Black Legion," a secret vigilante society. It is alleged that the accused "Black Legion" members killed Poole because they heard he beat his wife. But the grief stricken wife, shown right with her infant daughter, denies that her husband ever beat her or was cruel to her. Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea of Detroit, said he would charge seven men with the "execution." Police held nine additional men.

HEADQUARTERS IN OHIO, IS TIP

Secret Organization of "Death for Deserters" Being Uncovered

ARRESTS BEING MADE Present Investigations Center in Michigan

Detroit, May 25.—(AP)—At least three investigations were in progress today of the Black Legion which, State Police Captain I. H. Marmon said he had been informed, may have been responsible for 50 deaths in Michigan.

In Detroit, police sought to link the sinister hooded order with the death of Rudolph J. Anderson, 40, from a gunshot wound last December. A rifle lay near the body in Anderson's parked automobile, and the death was recorded as a suicide.

Captain Marmon said he was told that the Black Legion made its "executions" appear as suicides.

Anderson was a fellow employee of Harvey Davis, a "colonel" in the order, and Dayton Dean, who are held in connection with the fatal shooting of Charles A. Poole, on May 12.

Harry Colburn, chief investigator for Wayne County Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea, said he was informed the Black Legion had 135,000 members in Michigan, all armed, that it refused to countenance withdrawals, and boasted it had "no ex-members except those that are six feet under."

In Jackson, Justice of the Peace Ernest J. Roger opened a "John Doe" inquiry into the statements of Mrs. Maida Every and her son, Ralph, 20, that their husband and father, Paul Every, 42, was taken from his home and flogged last February because he attempted to resign from the Black Legion. They said Every, a state prison of Southern Michigan guard, failed in health after the flogging. He died April 14, of diabetes and heart disease.

Mrs. Every said Ray Ernest, also a state prison guard, was in the party that seized her husband. Ernest was detained on a charge of possessing illegal weapons after a raid on his home disclosed several weapons, ammunition, a hood and robe bearing the skull and crossbones insignia of the Black Legion, a whipping strap, and literature describing an organization referred to only as the "L. O. T. P."

Warden Harry H. Jackson, of the state prison, suspended Ernest yesterday. He said any other prison employees found to be connected with the order would be dismissed, and investigated a list of names, of several guards, found in Ernest's possession.

Prosecutor Owen Dudley, of Jackson county, said literature found in Ernest's home indicated he was a "brigadier general" in the order.

"Colburn said he had information that the national leader of the Black Legion lives near the Ohio-West Virginia border."

Prosecutor McCrea said that "we have evidence that there is a well-defined organization of the Black Legion in Ohio and Pennsylvania." Those states and Michigan, he said, compose the western division, headed by a man living in Lima, O. Lima police, he added, say the reputed western division leader has been away for three days.

At Pontiac, Mich., where the Black Legion was investigated two years ago, former Police Chief George J. Eckhardt said the national headquarters of the order was in Lima.

Also under investigation was the death of Garfield Wolfe, 48, an oil prospector, in 1932. He was found dead at a roadside near Napoleon, Mich., of a ruptured spleen, and state police said his acquaintances included several men now suspected of membership in the Black Legion.

FORMER RESIDENT CELEBRATES HIS 111TH BIRTHDAY

Nearly 100 Relatives
Present for Event

Bainbridge, May 25—(Special)—An event extraordinary took place on the big hill southwest of this village, Sunday, when John H. Davis, of the CCC highway near Rattlesnake creek, celebrated his 111th birthday, the event drawing nearly 100 relatives and friends to the home of his son-in-law, Jess Beatty, also formerly of Fayette county.

Mr. Davis, with his white whiskers drooping to his waist, spent most of the day in his wheeled chair, and much of the afternoon he spent playing cards with his relatives, apparently enjoying the game very much, and way always alert, making no misplays during a three hour session.

While his family declare that records show that "grandpa" as he is commonly called, is 111 years of age, he insists that he is really 113 years old.

Nine of his dozen living children were present for the event, and included in the relatives were four great great grandchildren and his 100th grandchild. He has more than 170 descendants.

A feature of the big family dinner, spread under the trees in the dooryard at the noon hour, was a large birthday cake, gift of the Flowers Bakery of Washington C. H.

Mr. Davis has not been in very good health since he was caught in a violent windstorm between Rattlesnake creek and the home of his son, Chester Davis, two or three years ago, and twice blown to the roadside and peppered with hail as he sought to reach home from a fishing expedition.

Apparently his eyes are as keen and his mental faculties as alert as a man of 70 years.

His hearing is also good. He has always read without glasses until a few weeks ago.

A family reunion is planned at the Beatty home the third Sunday in August, at which all of the dozen children and their families will be present.

TRIO RELEASED WHEN NO CHARGE FILED

Three Columbus negroes, Leon Black, Henry Henderson, and Mrs. Trulie O'Neal, were taken into custody by the police for questioning, late Sunday night, when Black appeared at police headquarters with blood pouring from a gash in his right hand.

A physician was called, but the man fainted four or five times before the doctor arrived, due to loss of blood.

He told police that he was in the car with the other two parties and that the woman had inflicted the wound with a knife when he grabbed the knife during a squabble.

He also claimed that he had been robbed. However Monday morning the entire group was released by Police Court Justice Lewis when no formal charges were filed, and apparently the differences of the trio had been patched up.

Workers at Goodyear Plant Stage Brief "Sitdown" Protest—Steel Mills at Portsmouth Closed by Strike—Electric Concern at Kent Surround-ed by Pickets

Portsmouth, O., May 25—(AP)—One of Portsmouth's prominent citizens was beaten early today in an outbreak of violence he said resulted from a strike at the Portsmouth works of the Wheeling Steel Corporation.

Frank N. Kinskey, 40, manager of the Ideal Milk Company, reported he was manhandled and beaten with clubs by a gang of 10 men at suburban New Boston because he transported 15 men to the company's plant by boat Sunday.

Kinskey said he agreed to take the men to the plant only after he was assured they were not strike breakers. While returning, he reported, 40 or 50 shots were fired at his boat.

After mooring the boat, Kinskey asserted he conferred with J. B. Harris, secretary of a joint committee made up of local lodges of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, which called the strike last Friday.

"He asked me who I took into the mill and I told him I wouldn't offer to go back and get the men, but he said that was not necessary."

Kinskey said he began getting threat calls by telephone late last night.

"I called New Boston police and asked them to arrange a conference with Amalgamated officials for me and they did," Kinskey related.

"I went to the police headquarters and a man drove up and said he would take me to the conference. He drove me to a place, but when I got out I was attacked and beaten."

Kinskey was under treatment in a hospital for cuts and bruises.

The plant, employing 5,550 workers, was idle today. There were about 200 persons inside, including office workers and company police. Three hundred pickets patrolled the grounds outside.

"SITDOWN" PROTEST AT GOODYEAR BRIEF

Akron, O., May 25—(AP)—Several hundred workers who started a "sitdown" protest at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company early today went to work a few hours later without explaining what had caused the protest or brought about its termination.

Police arrested 29 Union Goodyear employees yesterday and charged them with violation of the Ohio anti-rioting statute in connection with a demonstration last week.

The "sitdown" today started in the tire rooms of both plants No. 1 and 2, but the men involved at the plant No. 1 returned to work after a few moments of protest. The demonstration in the other plant continued for several hours.

The warrants upon which the 29 rubber workers were held charged that the men arrested held a group of company supervisors and non-union men prisoner in an improvised "bull-pen" during the demonstration last week, man-handling some of the "prisoners." The Summit County Central Labor Union defense committee immediately protested the "unwarranted jailing of members of the Goodyear Local Union" and asked the federal government in a resolution to make "a thorough investigation of practices of espionage and other unfair and unlawful activities on the part of the employers and other paid and voluntary agencies whom we will name."

KENT ELECTRIC CONCERN CLOSED BY STRIKE

Kent, O., May 25—(AP)—Strike pickets at the closed plant of the Decker and Black Electric Company said today they repulsed an attempt of four carloads of men to break through the picket line into the plant early today.

The electric plant, which employs about 400 men and women, has been closed for about three weeks, with the union strikers demanding wage increases and the right to represent all employees in collective bargaining.

The pickets, who would not permit themselves to be quoted by name, said the leader of the group which attempted to break through the line represented himself as a fire inspector.

Unable to get the gate open, the leader called for wire cutters. The pickets then forced the man back into their cars and followed them as they drove toward Akron, they said.

COAL MINE IS CLOSED AS 600 LOADERS STRIKE

Martins Ferry, Ohio, May 25—(AP)—A strike of 600 loaders caused a shutdown today of Ohio's largest coal mine at Powhatan, 15 miles south. Four hundred other employees were kept idle by the strike.

John Owens, district president of the United Mine workers of America, said at Columbus, however, that the men had been ordered to return to work Tuesday and take up any grievance in line with a contract with the Powhatan Mine Company.

The loaders quit in protest to a company order requiring two men instead of one to work in a mining room. When two men work in a room it decreases their earnings.

Owens termed the dispute "a local one" and said he expected it to be settled speedily.

SOIL CONSERVATION MEETING SCHEDULED

A meeting is to be held for all Green Township farmers Wednesday evening, May 27, at the township house, Buena Vista, for the purpose of electing a chairman and re-organization of the committee. Efforts will be made at this meeting to secure an early completion of the work sheets of the farmers of the township.

C. C. Eakins, present committee chairman, is resigning due to his duties as State Highway Superintendent. All farmers are urged to attend this meeting.

MUST DELIVER BONUS BONDS TO THE OWNER

Other Information Regarding Soldier Bonus Given

Postmaster W. E. Passmore has compiled the following information for all who are entitled to soldier bonus bonds, which bonds are to be distributed during June:

Bonds must be delivered to veterans personally. They cannot be delivered to a member of his family or to any other representative.

Receipts for bonds and all other instruments signed in connection therewith must be identical. For instance, if a bond is issued in the name of John Henry Jones, all signatures must be made accordingly. It will not be permissible to sign John H. Jones, J. Henry Jones, or J. H. Jones.

All bonds are non-negotiable. Therefore, they cannot, under any circumstances, be assigned.

Checks for bonds cannot be cashed at the Post Office. However, checks representing odd amounts or the amount over fifty dollars will be cashed if funds are available.

If a veteran is unknown by the employees of the Post Office, it will be imperative that he produce a responsible identifying witness who is willing to sign for the veteran's identity.

In the event a veteran is unable to sign his name it will be necessary for him to produce two witnesses as described in the paragraph just above.

All signatures must be made with ink or indelible pencil.

Veterans who have regular employment are requested not to present their bonds for certification on the first day in order that needy, unemployed veterans may be served first.

If bonds are not received on the morning of June 15 in time for regular carrier delivery, the Post Office will remain open as long as is necessary to accommodate these veterans who desire quick delivery.

For further information and final instructions, it is suggested that you tune in your radio on the night of June 13 to a broadcast which will be made by the Postmaster General.

NOW THEY KNOW HOW IT GOES!

Alleged Drunken Drivers Crash in Autos

It is not often that drunken drivers meet head-on, but such a thing occurred in this city about midnight Saturday night, according to the police, when a car driven by John Whittington, of Xenia, and another by Walter Annon, this city, came together in Elm street, and completely wrecked both cars.

Police called to the scene arrested both drivers, claiming that they were both sozzled, and locked them up. Both cars were badly smashed up and had to be towed away from the scene.

Apparently the zig-zagging cars made the wrong zig-zag at the same time and crashed with much force.

Neither driver was seriously injured.

Whittington Sunday furnished $100 bail for his appearance Tuesday.

Annon was still in jail Monday awaiting action in police court.

New York's Politics

Right now the announcement by Governor Lehman of New York state that he will not be a candidate this fall for re-election has created confusion and apprehension, even downright panic in the ranks of the democratic leaders in the Empire state and the nation.

Governor Lehman was elected two years ago by the greatest majority ever given to any candidate for any office in the history of that state and democratic leaders in New York and throughout the nation seemed to take it for granted that he would be a candidate this fall for re-election. His candidacy this fall would bring great strength to the national and state tickets while his refusal to be a candidate, if adhered to—and it seems that it will be—means a factional fight between the Tammany forces in New York City and the national organization, a development which may mean that New York with the largest electoral vote of any state in the union may swerve into the republican column.

President Roosevelt and national committee chairman Farley have been at outs with the Tammany organization ever since President Roosevelt, as Governor of New York placed the skids under Jimmy Walker, the play boy mayor.

Now with Al Smith off the reservation and Jimmy Walker back in New York, the Tammany Tiger snorting because of the treatment it has received and Governor Lehman declining to be a candidate, it is no wonder the democratic leaders are "trembling in their boots" at the prospect.

Student Strikes

Until recently we, here in America, have read of student strikes, student disorders and student revolts in European countries and over in the countries of the Near and the Far East as something peculiar and extraordinary—another one of those happenings which could never occur in this country.

But—and this is the sad part of it—we scarcely see a newspaper here, nowadays, that doesn't carry at least one item giving an account of a student strike. Colleges, high schools and grade schools in city and rural districts alike seem to have caught the strike fever.

Thus far those strikes have been confined to rebellions against school discipline or school management. They have not yet, so far as we have learned assumed the form of strike or rebellion against any unit of the government.

Some of these student strikes have been successful and that is unfortunate. It encourages a lawless spirit that is a real menace not only to school management but to the government, even tho' it may not yet have assumed the form of rebellion against the civil authority.

There is something radically wrong in school management that rouses the rebellious spirit in students. That seems quite evident especially so when school authorities are compelled to accede to the demands of the strikers.

We have thought for sometime that there was too little real discipline in our schools and too much recreation, too much freedom and too much fraternizing or familiarity between school authorities and students.

In the "good old times" we had none of the student strikes because there was more discipline and less play time, less attention given to arousing and encouraging the spirit of combat than there is today.

It will be well for school authorities to reform their methods markedly if they expect to maintain discipline in the schools and quell the spirit of rebellion which may easily spread to larger fields than those at present menaced.

After all the best thing that can be taught to young folks, in the schools or in the home, is discipline—respect for authority and obedience to law. Neglect to teach discipline means to teach lawlessness and that is dangerous.

Charles P. Stewart Says:

COUZENS IN DILEMMA IN RE-ELECTION FIGHT

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington, May 25.—Senator James Couzens of Michigan probably is the richest man in public life.

And when he feels like it, as generally he does, he is one of the most politico-economically liberal. Occasionally, however, he takes the conservative side of some national question. They say he is erratic. His version is that he is independent. He certainly is.

The progressives in congress greatly like him, but when he is opposing them he makes them angrier than the reactionaries do. They expect opposition from the reactionaries, but they cannot understand it, coming from him.

HATES SYSTEM, NOT MEN

He consorts socially with plutocrats, too.

"It's a mystery to me," Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska said to him, "how you can associate with such folk—play golf with them, for example; treat them as friends."

I know that Senator Norris made this remark; Senator Couzens told me so.

"But," explained the Wolverine statesman, "it is the plutocrats' system that I hate; I don't hate individuals. I don't hate even Andy Mellon personally."

However, he fought the ex-secretary of the treasury bitterly when the latter was in office.

F. D. R.'S POPULARITY

The senator also told why, in his opinion, President Roosevelt is so popular.

"I realize," he conceded, "that many Rooseveltian policies are impossible; that many of his advisers are impractical theorists; that administratively his system is terrible. But he is the only president in my time who ever has had a heart-throb of sympathy with the underprivileged—the common man. He has plans that won't work, but they can be licked into workability; at least they're a start."

"The old-time conservative philosophy has been: 'Let the rich grow richer; the more bread they have on their tables, the more crusts will be brushed off for the poor to pick up from the floor.'"

"I believe in an even break, for all the people, than that."

REMAINS REPUBLICAN

Senator Couzens accordingly will not oppose Roosevelt's re-election. Positively not.

Yet he will run for the senate as a Republican.

The Michigan Democrats would be glad to put him on their ticket. They have endorsed him among others.

"I'll come back," says the senator, "as a Republican or not at all."

The San Francisco board of education requires parents to pay for damage done to school buildings by pupils.

"Why?"

"Well, as a Democrat I'd lose my seniority. On all committee assignments I'd go down to the foot of the list."

A SENIOR G. O. P.

The senator is senior Republican on the powerful interstate commerce and banking and currency committees.

As senior, even of the minority, he has a potent office—all the more so because, as an independent, although a nominal Republican, the majority has, in considerable measure, to defer to him. As a junior Democrat he wouldn't speak with the same authority.

It may seem queer but it is parliamentary precedent.

A NOTABLE RECORD

"And all the fun I've had in Washington," added the senator, "has been in committee rooms."

"I'm not an orator on the floor."

"My activities don't appear in the official record."

Senator Couzens is mistaken in this respect; he has a notable record.

Poetry For Today

TO A WOOD-VIOLET
In this secluded shrine,
O miracle of grace,
No mortal eye but mine
Hath looked upon thy face.

No shadow but mine own
Hath screened thee from the sight
Of Heaven, whose love alone
Hath led me to the light.

Whereof—as shade to shade
Is wedded in the sun—
A moment's glance hath made
Our souls forever one.
—John Banister Tabb.

RESIGNATION
Why, why repine, my pensive friend,
At pleasures slipped away?
Some the stern Fates will never lend,
And all refuse to stay.

I see the rainbow in the sky,
The dew upon the grass;
I see them, and I ask not why
They glimmer or they pass.

With folded arms I linger not
To call them back; 'twere vain:
In this, or in some other spot,
I know they'll shine again.
—Walter Savage Landor.

High Spots In Ohio History

From the Galbraith collection of Ohio Histories. Written for the Associated Press.

If one is astonished at the unusual political ideas and community customs found in our originally exclusive New England Western Reserve occasionally, he need look no further than the history of Connecticut for an explanation. The Connecticut of the days of the Revolution was dominated by class ideas and influences as no other of the thirteen colonies were. There political and religious dogma hung upon society with controlling effect.

The parish and the town were but different sides of the same thing. The assertion made now as to Massachusetts in our day, to the effect that if you are not descended from an old family you do not belong, was absolutely true of Colonial Connecticut and of the years following the revolution. The town (township) was indeed a close corporation.

TRAIL BLAZERS

Who Made Ohio History

By R. C. HALL

After La Salle blazed the way for white men down the Ohio river, others were not long in following. At first it was La Salle's own countrymen who pushed into the region and soon the flag of France was flying over a number of Indian villages and what was more significant over a number of French trading-posts.

Then the English began to push across the mountains to the eastward and a struggle for possession was in the making.

The French sent Celoron De Bienville to blaze a more vivid trail down the Ohio valley and to warn all trespassers away from that region.

Captain Celoron was a French veteran and a member of the Order of St. Louis. He took with him a priest, a few officers, and soldiers of the French army, about 180 Canadians and 30 Indians.

This group went down the Ohio river, it being the intention of the French to have evidences of their jurisdiction posted at the mouths of all the principal streams emptying into the Ohio, such as the present sites of Marietta, Ohio, and Point Pleasant, W. Va. At these points Celoron is said to have gone ashore and with great pomp and ceremony claimed the land for France.

As an evidence of this, he caused a tin plate to be nailed to a tree and a lead plate to be buried near the tree. Although he did not do this at every stream, as apparently planned, he did at several places between Pittsburgh and Louisville.

A NEW YORKER AT LARGE

By JACK STINNETT

New York—Put the name of Eva Ortega in your to-be-remembered book.

Last week she was just one of the thousands of radio amateurs. . . . Now she is singing nightly to the top-hatters in the Rockefeller Center Rainbow Room and the soft-shirted gentry in the Grill Room.

Miss Ortega is a native New Yorker, though her father is Spanish and her mother French. She is tall, dark, glamorous and naive. She is 21 and less than a year out of Hunter college here where she got a degree and certificate to teach school.

She has always wanted to be a singer, but, she explains, these days a person had better be prepared even for failure. She is not going to be mediocre, if she finds she is, she will quit and teach school.

She prattled French and Spanish before she could speak English and she is fluent in German and Italian. She can sing classics from the operas. She can run the gamut of modern night club music from the torchers to low-down swing. But she prefers to sing lullabies and folk-songs from the French, Spanish and Italian.

When she was graduated from college, some friends dared her to try for an amateur audition. To her own amazement, she says, she was selected for a broadcast and during the winter did a seven-month tour with an amateur unit.

If the inquisition were flowering today, it could develop no greater torture than such a tour. It's vaudeville's third degree. Five or sometimes six shows a day. . . . Then into a bus at 11 p. m. for a joggety jaunt to the next stand. . . . And the five-day grind all over again.

Miss Ortega says other members of her unit insisted she would not last. . . . Called her an "intellectual." . . . Too soft for trouping. . . . It was a bad winter, too. . . . Most of the tour was made in temperatures ranging from zero to 20 below.

"But I'm a healthy specimen and I stuck. Whenever I got cold and tired, I just started singing. I can stand anything if I can sing," she says.

Some of her songs she learned from her parents; others, she picked up from the villagers and peasants of France, Italy, Spain during trips abroad. She sings them with what she calls pantomime. . . . That is, with an expression of happiness or sadness or pleading in her dark eyes and on her lips . . . and a come-hither or go-thither movement of her hands.

Miss Ortega is what the Broadway bookers refer to as a "natural." Like most "naturals" she needs the burnishing of experience before audiences and a knowledge of a few tricks of the trade. But it's a far step the young woman has taken toward what Variety statistically points out is one in a million—the radio amateur who makes good.

A passenger came struggling into the train with two very large suitcases. After much trouble he managed to heave them on to the luggage rack, while the other passengers edged away expecting them to come crashing down at any minute.

"Er—I say!" cried the fellow in the corner seat, as he eyed the suitcases nervously, "do you think they are safe up there?"

"Oh, yes," replied the owner cheerfully, "they are both locked."

A formal wedding, of stately beauty, witnessed by three hundred and fifty guests, the marriage of Miss Emily Rowe, the only daughter of Mrs. Jessie Vincent Rowe, and Mr. Rogers Eikenberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Eikenberry, of Hamilton, was solemnized at the Methodist Episcopal church, as the hands of the clock approached nine Saturday evening. The ring ceremony of the Methodist church was performed by Rev. A. K. Wilson, the bridal tableau formed in soft glow of candle lighting. The chancel decorating formed a most effective background, the floor covered with white linen, edged in evergreen. Ivory cathedral chandeliers burned in seven branch five branch candlesticks, rising on standards, linked with leafy garlands of fern and smilax. Banks of ferns and palms flanked the center decoration.

While the guests assembled Miss Marian Christopher played beautifully a program of wedding music—"My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice"—"Hanson and Dalila"—"Saint Saccus"—"Promise Me"—"Reginald Deven"—"Love Dream"—Liszt.

To the strain of the Lohengrin wedding march, Mr. Eikenberry, his best man, Mr. Richard Den, of Dayton, descended the aisle to await the bride and her attendants at the altar.

Miss Dorothy Hudson was first in procession, followed by Miss Jo Williams, the second bridesmaid. Miss Hudson and Miss Williams were charming maids in their formal gowns of linen lace, edged identically. The gowns, which buttoned to the waist in the back, were fashioned with starched collars, forming the cap sleeves, and with a deep godet which ended in a short train. Miss Hudson, in a marine blue, carried an arm bouquet of pink Briar Cliff roses, and Miss Williams, in tea rose, carried an arm bouquet of deep cream chrysanthemum Hill roses. Garlands of white flowers were entwined in their hair.

The bride, a beautiful girl of rich brunette coloring, was a picture as she descended the aisle on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Will Trovillo, who gave her in marriage. Her gown of imported French lace in a deep cream shade was fashioned over a slip of ivory satin. The lace buttoned with loops of satin nearly to the knees and fell open, revealing the satin slip, to the floor, where it swept behind her in a long and graceful train. Her veil was of ivory maline, finger-tip length, and her flowers were a sheaf of calla lilies.

The four ushers were Mr. Franklin Serviss, of Hamilton, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Mr. P. G. Banker, Mr. Ross Snyder, of Middletown, and Mr. Dan Beckett, of Hamilton, who took their places behind the best man.

Following the impressive ceremony, the bridal party left the church to the triumphant strains of the Mendelssohn recessional march.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception for the out-of-town guests and intimate friends was entertained at the home of the bride's mother.

The bride's table was exquisitely appointed, with gleaming silver and snowy linen. The centerpiece was a gorgeous tiered wedding cake, as delicious as it was beautiful. Frosted with white rosebuds, the cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, who stood beneath a cluster of white wedding bells, hung with lilies-of-the-valley. A large white wedding bell was suspended from the center chandelier and centering a serving table in the background was a heart-shaped basket of valley lilies, from the center of which rose a tiny bride. It was a most artistic decorating ensemble, the cake the artistry of Fouché's Bakery.

The bride cut the cake, served with delicious ice cream moulds in the form of calla lilies. Mrs. J. J. Kelley, Mrs. Will Trovillo, and Mrs. Lydia Williams, aunts of the bride, assisted in the dining room.

Mrs. Rowe, the bride's mother, was wearing a handsome gown of black triple sheer, with insets of lace, and a shoulder corsage of pink roses and sweetpeas. Mrs. Eikenberry was attractively gowned in orchid triple sheer, with lace insets and a shoulder corsage of roses and sweetpeas.

Miss Hudson caught the bride's bouquet and divided the lilies between the two mothers and the bride's most intimate friends.

Miss Lorie King, pianist, played throughout the hours of the reception. The bride presented lovely gifts to Miss Christopher, Miss King and the bridesmaids. Mr. Eikenberry also presented handsome remembrances to his best man and the ushers.

The wedding gifts were extremely handsome and in large number. Mr. and Mrs. Eikenberry left during the evening on a motoring trip of several days. Mr. Eikenberry, who is with the Farm Service Stores, Inc., has been transferred to the Ashtabula office and he and his bride have taken a modern cottage on the Country Club grounds at Ashtabula on Lake Erie for the summer. They will spend a part of their honeymoon furnishing the cottage. For motoring, the bride wore a decidedly smart frock of brown and chambray-colored printed crepe, with top coat and accessories of chambray.

Distinctive interest attends the wedding. The bride, belonging to one of Fayette County's old families, is a graduate of Miami University, Oxford, and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and also of the local chapter of the Phi Beta Psi sorority. The unusual number of parties fetter her since the announcement of the engagement, attests her popularity in her home town and other cities.

Mr. Eikenberry, a graduate of Ohio University and a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, has frequently visited at the Rowe home and has made a number of friends and acquaintances here, sharing with his bride in a host of felicitations.

Among the large number of out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Eikenberry, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Serviss, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Will Watson, Martha Alice and Dave Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Flitton, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Flitton, Mrs. Irene Flitton, Mr. Stuart Flitton, Mr. and Mrs. William Beckett, Mr. and Mrs. James Cullen, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ulmschneider, Miss Jane Eyre Ulmschneider, Mrs.

T. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Ancil Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thatcher, of New Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Will Trovillo, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Putnam, of Frankfort, Mr. Neil Cashman, of Wilmington.

Miss Dorothy Hudson, an extremely pretty bridesmaid in the Eikenberry-Rowe wedding of Saturday evening, complimented the bride at party with a dinner at the Washington Country Club, just before the ceremony. Covers were also laid for Miss Dorothy Rogers, of Cleveland, Mrs. Franklin Serviss, of Hamilton, and Miss Rebecca Eikenberry, of Cleveland, sisters of the bridegroom.

It was a beautiful affair, the guests seated at one long table, centered with a large yellow pottery bowl, sentinelled with matching pottery vases filled with flowers of the season in artistic arrangement.

A three course dinner of most delicious viands was gaily enjoyed.

Quiet simplicity marked the marriage of Miss Mildred Hagler Todhunter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Todhunter, and Mr. William Selsor Fenner, son of Mrs. W. W. Fenner, which was solemnized Monday morning. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents and united two of Fayette county's old and well known families.

Rev. Arthur K. Wilson, of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, read the single ring ceremony at 8:00 a. m., and immediately after Mr. and Mrs. Fenner left on a ten days' motoring trip through the South.

The bride, a lovely girl, extremely fair in type, wore for her marriage a modish sports suit of Madonna blue, with accessories of white, and corsage bouquet of pink roses.

Plans for an Easter wedding were abandoned owing to Dr. Todhunter's illness and Monday morning's ceremony was very quiet and confined to the immediate families.

Mrs. Fenner is a very charming girl, who has had unusual opportunities in education and travel. Following her graduation from Miami University, where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, she obtained her Master's degree with further study at Ohio State University, a year at Sarbonne in Paris, France, and the University of Pittsburgh. For the past two years, she has been a member of the Caldwell, Ohio, High School as language teacher and before that taught at Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, Ill., and St. Mary's College at Notre Dame, Ind.

Mr. Fenner is manager of Devon Hall, apartment hotel in Cleveland. He studied at Cascadilla, Cornell University Preparatory School at Ithaca, New York, and at Ohio State University, where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He has a most likable personality and is popular in both business and social relations.

Best wishes galore are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Fenner, who will go to their home at 1588 Ansel road, Cleveland, upon their return from their wedding trip, their apartment furnished and in readiness.

Appearing in Columbus papers Sunday was an announcement of an approaching marriage of specific interest to a large family connection and friends galore in this city.

"Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Conard, 478 East Tompkins street, announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Norma, to Mr. Dean Fite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fite, of Washington C. H., Ohio.

Miss Conard is a graduate of Bliss Business college and the college of education at Ohio State university and has been superior of music in Gallia county for the past two years.

"Mr. Fite is a graduate in the college of commercial engineering at the University of Cincinnati. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi and Beta Gamma Sigma fraternities. He is associated at present with the Henking-Bovie Co. in Gallipolis.

"The wedding has been set for June 13, at 8:00 p. m. in the Grace M. P. church of Columbus. Rev. Lewis W. Gishler of Gallipolis will read the ceremony. A reception for the immediate families will follow the wedding at the home of the bride's parents."

Mrs. Alfred R. Hagler, a charming young hostess, entertained seven tables of the younger society set, at her attractive country home Saturday afternoon, with a dessert-bridge. The pleasurable drive out in the beautiful summer day was the forerunner of a most delightful afternoon.

For the serving of a dessert, as pretty as it was delicious, the guests were seated at seven small tables. Daintily appointed, and centered with silver bud vases of vari-colored columbine and fern, the tables were lovely. In the background of the large rooms was a protusion of iris, ranging from deep purple to orchid, and from cream and yellows to brown, the effect beautiful.

The afternoon around the bridge tables was gaily enjoyed. Miss Dorothy Sparks won high score trophy, Mrs. C. E. Hughes and Mrs. Woldeane Ichnowick second and third prizes.

Mrs. Harry Erick, of Sabina, was among the guests.

Miss Dorothy Mowery delightfully entertained at her lovely country home near Jeffersonville Saturday afternoon, the affair a miscellaneous shower complimenting Mrs. Chester Babb (Christina Looker) a recent bride.

The Mowery home was tastefully decorated with summer flowers. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in every appointment.

Look at Her Knees

Cast your eyes on Hollywood's most perfect knees. Owned by Thelma White, petite singing and dancing comedienne, the knees have been termed the "most perfect" from the standpoint of shape, body harmony and beauty. At least, that is the opinion of Louise Long, figure conditioner for Hollywood stars. Miss White currently is appearing in civic light opera.

Streamers of pink and white hung from the chandeliers to the corners of the dining table which was centered with a watergarden of pink and white flowers. Around this were arranged the shower gifts.

A "flower wedding" contest afforded entertainment. Each guest was asked to write a question which the bride read and answered. The guests also presented the bride with copies of favorite recipes.

Tempting refreshments, carried out in the color scheme, were served after which the guest of honor opened her gifts and expressed her appreciation.

Mrs. Perry Mowery assisted her daughter with the delightful hospitalities.

PAINT CHIMNEY

Don't forget the chimney if you are painting your home this spring or summer! A soiled chimney can soil the effect of an otherwise handsomely renovated house.

And when the chimney is painted, vary the appearance of sameness in the bricks by coating some of them in different colors. For instance, if a chimney is painted white, some of the bricks can be coated green, tan, or brown to harmonize with the roof. And if the chimney is kept its conventional red coat some of the bricks in harmonizing shades—tan, rose red, foliage green, or deep brown.

Politics at Random

Cleveland, May 25.—(P)—Once more, the Socialist party is split. The "Old Guard" of New York—the faction of Rightists led for years by the late Morris Hillquit and now by Louis Waldman—set forth today to organize a new Marxist party, not only in New York but on a national basis.

The split came yesterday after the national convention of the Socialist party stood by its National Executive committee and the leadership of Norman Thomas, turned down the "Old Guard" and seated the Thomas Leftist delegation from New York.

It came after virtually an entire weekend of emotional debate and bitterness over principles and personalities. All compromise efforts were to no avail. In the first place, the "Old Guard" had turned its back on compromise; and especially on 44 seats be divided on the basis of the proportional vote in the April one proposal, advanced by Mayor Daniel Hoan of Milwaukee, the primary in New York, in which the Leftists defeated the "Old Guard" and gained control of the city and state committees.

The "Old Guard," in the words of Waldman, "wants all the entire delegation or nothing."

While the convention, after wrangling for two days over the New York dispute, belatedly got down to drafting its platform and discussing candidates, the "Old Guard" met in conference with the Rightwing forces of other states.

Quickly, a committee, with Waldman as chairman, was formed to draft the plans for the new party, select a name and pick a provisional executive committee.

In New York, the party probably will be organized before July and it intends to enter the fall campaign with a state ticket.

REPUBLICANS PREPARE FOR CONVENTION AND WARM-UP WITH NEW DEAL CRITICISM

Washington, May 25.—(P)—Republicans today entered the final fortnight of pre-convention drives designed to garner decisive support for various contenders for the presidential nomination.

Democrats, with their own political show at Philadelphia to come later in June, were holding their fire for a time, while the Republican National committee continued to concentrate its efforts against the New Deal.

In a statement made public today, the committee described what it called "the wrecking of the merit system of the Civil Service under the Roosevelt administration."

A committee pamphlet written by Claude Baceock, former secretary of the Civil Service Commission, called Postmaster General James A. Farley "a good spoilsmaster general," adding that "he has bought a lot of votes with the United States treasury."

As for other campaign developments, the situation in New York continued to attract attention in view of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman's announcement that he would not run for re-election. Both President and Democratic Chairman Farley were in that state today and there was speculation as to whether a "Draft Lehman" move would crystallize.

North Dakota Republicans gathered today to select eight National convention delegates, which will leave only 55 more to be picked in the whole nation before the full slate of 1,001 is ready for the convention struggles. Leaders predicted the eight would go to Cleveland unpledged.

Democrats in Washington state, split into two camps, adjourned at 6 a. m. yesterday after an uproarious session during which they apparently forgot officially to instruct 16 delegates to support Mr. Roosevelt. "Left Wingers" seized control of the convention and put through their own program, which, among other things, called for an amendment to the federal constitution to permit a referendum on judicial decisions. It also advocated public ownership and operations of natural resources.

In St. Paul, Howard Y. Williams, National organizer for the "Farmer-Labor party, said that "barring something unusual," a presidential candidate would not be considered at the National "Third Party" conference in Chicago Friday and Saturday.

"One reason," he said, "is the endorsement of Roosevelt by the Labor Non-Partisan league representing big union."

Hunt Him as Slayer

Harlan Crouch

Federal agents continued their hunt for Harlan Crouch, 44-year-old Indianapolis ex-convict, who is wanted in connection with the slaying of Agent John R. Foster of the federal alcohol tax unit. Crouch was named by James Jacobs, 40, who was arrested in the case, as the man who shot and killed Foster near St. John, Ind., as he and a fellow agent pursued two liquor runners. Jacobs was to be arraigned at Hammond, Ind., on a federal murder charge.

Rangers Get Credit For Popularizing Six-Shooter

Dallas (P)—Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, expert on Texas history, says the Texas rangers should be given credit for popularizing the six-shooter after the United States army refused to buy a proffered model.

By adopting the gun, the early-day rangers, whose feats in tracking down criminals and enforcing law are legend, made it possible for frontiersmen to engage Indians in combat while mounted, the University of Texas professor says. Previously the pioneers' long rifles and one-shot horse pistols had forced the white man to dismount while fighting the redskins.

NAZIS BUY DANISH CATTLE

Copenhagen (P)—In the first three months of 1936 Germany bought 36,000 cattle from Denmark—an increase of 75 per cent over similar purchases in 1935. The increase is regarded here as indication of a shortage of meat in the third reich.

WORLD at a Glance

An Inflationary Boom Due to the Vast Gold Store and Excess Reserves or Production Decline?

By LESLIE EICHEL
An advisory investment service advises:

"Credit inflation or monetary inflation, prices of both commodities and securities will rise. The chances are that we will have both currency inflation and credit inflation. But the latter will come, anyway."

"Colossal expansion possible: The 10 billions of gold in the United States can be expanded to a grand total available credit of 280 billions! This compares with 55 billions at the peak of 1929. Within a few years you are likely to see the greatest spending program and industrial activity 'boom' in history!"

"We have, in addition, more than three billions of excess reserves in the member banks of the Federal Reserve system. This is five times the reserve of 1929!"

CONTRA

Then we read these headlines in a report of the Alexander Hamilton institute:

"Sharp decline in automobile production due in near future. Annual output this year will be lower than in 1935 unless abnormal demand of last two years is maintained. Such a demand is not in prospect."

We read also:

"Unemployed reduced in March, but 12,714,000 persons still out of work."

"However, only 7,770,000 fewer persons employed than at pre-depression peak."

ANOTHER FACTOR

The Alexander Hamilton institute also remarks:

"The situation in France is of considerable importance to the United States. As is well known, there is a considerable amount of French capital in the United States and it is believed that, if the franc is devalued, a considerable portion of this capital will be repatriated."

"Repatriation of French capital will of course result in the liquidation of securities in the American security markets. Under present conditions in France, however, it is not likely that devaluation will result in any very large repatriation of French capital."

"The new government to be formed in France early in June will apparently adopt policies not dissimilar to those of the New Deal in the United States. This would involve not merely measures dealing with currency and with the central bank but also the imposition of new taxes and the adoption of measures to help agriculture and relieve unemployment. Such legislation is bound to create a great deal of uncertainty and apprehension on the part of the monied classes which will deter the repatriation of French capital."

"In addition, the extremely difficult European political situation must not be overlooked. The occupation of Addis Ababa and the annexation of Ethiopia by Italy marks the end of the League of Nations in its present form and changes the entire European system of collective security. This, in turn, will result in increased armaments in Europe and the conclusion of bilateral and multilateral agreements which are bound to exercise an unsettling influence on economic conditions in Europe.

"Under these circumstances it is not likely that foreigners will be in any hurry to repatriate their capital from the United States. On the contrary, it is possible that the influx of foreign capital to this country will continue no matter what measures the new French government may take concerning the French franc."

Thus, in the confusing rush of prophecies, you must take your own pick. There is, however, one tried and true axiom:

"What goes up must come down."

A STRAW?

Betting in Wall Street has settled down to 2 to 1 odds in favor of President Roosevelt's re-election.

THAT UTILITY JOKER

That joker in the corporation bankruptcy bill which would have saved utility managements from bankruptcy proceedings filed by investors has been laid at the door of Tom D. McKeown. According to a statement made to the senate judiciary sub-committee, which unwittingly sponsored the amendment, Mr. McKeown represents Associated Gas & Electric, dominated by Howard C. Hopson. He says, however, he did not represent Associated at the time the amendment was drawn. Mr. McKeown is a former Democratic representative from Oklahoma.

The joker in question, as previously explained in this column, would require 5 per cent of a company's indebtedness to be represented in any suit for reorganization. The real joker was a retroactive clause, which would have invalidated proceedings against Associated by bondholders and would have permitted Hopson to remain in power.

Senator Frederick Van Nuys of Indiana, who presented the retroactive amendment, remarked in moving to kill the amendment: "If the Hopson case is placed in jeopardy, as is contended, I will ask that the retroactive amendment be withdrawn."

Progressive senators had warned Democratic leaders of the possibilities. One of the actions jeopardized was a government tax claim of $50,000,000 against the Hopson company.

ASSAULT CHARGE

DRUNKEN DRIVING SHOWS AN INCREASE

Dwight, Ill.—(P)—Drunken driving arrests in 12 Ohio cities were reported Saturday in Keeley Institute survey to have increased 68 per cent since the repeal of prohibition. The survey showed 1,030 arrests for driving while intoxicated during 1935 as compared with 613 during 1933 in Akron, Ashtabula, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Hamilton, Lima, Newark, Springfield, Steubenville, Youngstown and Zanesville.

TESTING A PLANE HAD TO JUMP OUT

Dayton, O., May 25.—(P)—J. L. Malone, test pilot for the St. Louis Aircraft Company, of St. Louis, leaped to safety with the aid of his parachute when a basic training plane he was testing for his company went out of control.

Malone had put the ship into a tail spin, but failed to bring the craft out of it. At an altitude of 800 feet he jumped. The ship was demolished.

Vegetable shippers have been warned to let ice "warm up" before icing cars in order to prevent freezing of shipments.

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

By VICTOR EUBANK

New York, May 25.—(P)—The attention of the stock market today was centered on industrial specialties, a number of which were pushed up fractions to around two points.

At the same time many other sections of the list were neglected, and there were sufficient soft spots in evidence to bring a moderately irregular close. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

The major steel issues performed well in the face of the official estimate that current mill operations at 67.9 per cent of capacity, were 1½ points under last week.

Among the better acting stocks were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, American Telephone, American Type Founders, American Bank Note, Great Northern, Pennsylvania, and Public Service of New Jersey.

On the heavy side were Greyhound Corp., U. S. Smelting, Dome, Liggett and Myers B. Cerro De Pasco and Standard Oil of California.

Wheat, corn and cotton improved. The French franc rallied after an early dip.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN

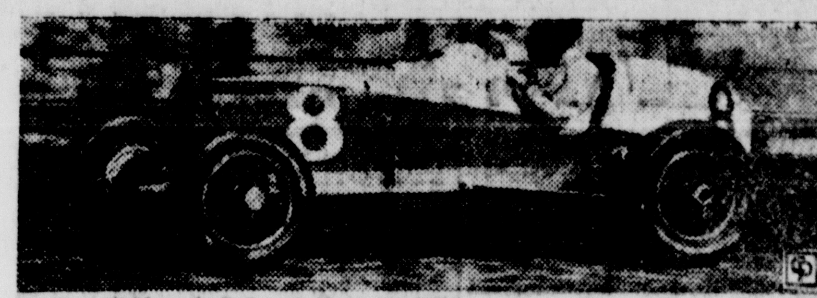

Chicago, May 25.—(P)—Despite notices that 1,104,000 bushels would be tendered in settlement of May wheat contracts tomorrow, the price of that delivery rose strongly late today.

Nervousness of traders was persistent regarding the outcome of tomorrow's developments as to May wheat settlements. Notwithstanding announcement 260,000 bushels had been sold into storage here and 75,000 bushels bought to come here from Kansas City, highest prices of the day were scored in the final transactions.

Wheat closed flurried, ¼¢2½¢ above Saturday's finish.

ARKS SUNDAY GAMES

nd Tony Lazzeri Is Big Shot of Day—Homers Blasted by Yankees

EDS WALLOP PIRATES

ne-sided Scores Feature Week-end Baseball

by HUGH S. FULLERTON JR

It looks as if the Yankees will be hard to stop as long as Tony Lazzeri and Frank Crosetti continue to go with rookie Joe DiMaggio for the Italian vote of the New York fans and the honor of setting the pace of the revived "murderers row."

The colorful "De Mag" should have the credit, perhaps, for the Yankees' hitting revival which has kept them at the top of the American League standing but today the veteran Lazzeri is the hero everywhere from Mulberry Bend to Telegraph Hill.

Tony, putting to rest all reports he isn't as spry as he used to be, had a hitting spree in Philadelphia which produced six home runs in two days and a new American League record for runs batted in during a single contest, which the Yankees won, 25 to 2, Sunday.

In Sunday's game, Lazzeri drove in eleven runs, hitting three homers—two with bases full—and a triple. That surpassed by two the old American League record held by Jimmie Foxx and fell just one short of Jim Bottomley's National League standard. The six homers in three consecutive games was one more than the mark held by Babe Ruth and several others while the record book fails to show any player hitting two homers with corners jammed in one game. To hold up their end of the argument, Crosetti macked two homers and DiMaggio one. The Yanks hit eleven homers in two consecutive games for a new major league mark.

The week-end triumphs enabled the Yanks to increase their margin over Boston to 2½ games as the Red Sox absorbed a 4 to 12 drubbing from Washington Sunday. Jake Powell and 19-year old Buddy Lewis led the attack on the gold-plated pitching staff, the former with two doubles, a triple and a single, the latter with a homer, triple and two singles.

Onesided scores marked the entire program as the Cardinals and Giants kept pace in their duel for the National League lead. The only close game saw Chicago's White Sox turn back the St. Louis Browns 7 to 5 on Luke Sewell's homer in the ninth.

The Cards, a half game ahead in the senior circuit, trimmed the Cubs 7 to 1. A crowd of 22,500, the largest at St. Louis this season, saw the effective combination of Roy Parmelee's five-hit flinging and a 17-hit attack that drove Curt Davis to cover in his first start for Chicago. The Giants, paced by Sam Leslie, who smacked a homer, triple, double and two singles in five trips to the plate, routed the Phillies 13 to 5.

The Cincinnati Reds went into a three way tie with Chicago and Pittsburgh for third place in the standing by trouncing the Pirates 12 to 1 behind Al Hollingsworth's five-hit flinging. The Dodgers made 15 hits in support of Van Mungo and trounced the Bees 11 to 2.

Lloyd Brown of Cleveland turned in the day's outstanding mound performance when he blanked the world champion Tigers with two hits to gain a 7 to 0 triumph. The Indians routed Schoolboy Rowe in two innings as Hal Trosky's ninth homer of the season featured their opening attack.

Jeffersonville Wins 12-7 Jeffersonville's independent team downed Sedalia with a count of 12 to 7 at the Jeff diamond Sunday afternoon before a nice-sized turnout of fans.

YOUNG DETROIT WALKER WINS 31 MILE CINCINNATI CONTEST

Cincinnati, May 25—(AP)—Ernie Crosbie, young Detroit athlete, headed homeward as the National A. A. U. 1936 title-holder of the 50,000 meter pedestrian route today, convinced that the "third time's a charm."

Twice before he entered the gruelling grind, and twice saw victory fade; last year as Henry Cleman of Toronto, established a new record of four hours, 57 minutes.

Yesterdays the young Detroit walker watched Cleman's heels flash for more than 25 miles of the distance, then breezed past him to win in 5 hours, 16 minutes, 16 seconds—far short of the record, but creditable, officials said, considering the broiling sun, which sent the temperature to 86.

Cleman, favored to repeat, fought recurring attacks of stomach cramp all the way and pulled up fifth.

Albert J. Mangan, 21, of Lowell, Mass., entered in his first "big time" race of such distance, showed plenty of class to finish less than three minutes after Crosbie, for second place. His time for the 31-mile-125 yard cross-country jaunt was 5:18:55.

Times were too slow to qualify even the winner for membership in the A. A. U.'s Olympic squad. Choice was to be made, providing the elapsed time was five hours or less.
